On August 6, 1945, the first atomic bomb was dropped on the Japanese city of Hiroshima. On August 9, a second A-bomb obliterated a second Japanese city, Nagasaki. Over 300,000 people were killed by these bombs. Today's nuclear bombs are 1,000 times larger.

The program will conclude with a "DIE-IN"--Those wishing to participate will sink slowly to the ground as if killed by a nuclear bomb, remaining silent on the ground as a drum beats solemnly. It is done in memory of the A-bomb victims and in a spirit of determination to prevent future nuclear holocaust.
